

Care, Maintenance and Warranty

A. Cushion Care:

The cushions on this furniture have been filled with high quality white goose down and feathers.

With appropriate care, the construction and superior materials used in these cushions will provide both comfort and durability.

Down and feather filled cushions will adjust to your support requirements, in effect, conforming to the body. It is therefore necessary to regularly turn and rotate cushions to compensate for this impression. The cushions need to be frequently fluffed to retain their loft and resiliency.

Regular rotation and fluffing of cushions will also avoid matting of feathers and extend the life of the cushions. Feathers will occasionally work their way through the fabric as no fabric is feather proof (only down proof). Regular rotation and fluffing of cushions will mitigate this occurrence.

With use, the 100% cotton cushion casing (ticking) will soften and any initial fabric crackling, caused by fire retardant treatment of fabric, will dissipate.

B. Exposed Wood Care:

Exposed wood on A Rudin furniture should not be treated with commercial wood cleaning products. Dusting with a dry soft cotton cloth will maintain the finish and luster.

C. Warranty Terms:

Furniture warranty is one year for any manufacturing defect under conditions of normal use and reasonable care. Damage as a result of misuse, abuse or shipping damage is not covered under warranty.
